Anonymous : The 346th Infantry Historical Notes before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The 346th Infantry Historical Notes:

The 346th Infantry Division, affectionately known as the Acorn Division was a group of young American men who went to Europe to fight in World War I. Arriving at the front just weeks before the end of the war, they were spared the horrendous casualties many units faced. Once home many members contributed poems, stories, jokes, drawings, and photographs to create The 346th Infantry Historical Notes. The Notes served as a yearbook of sorts for the young men who proudly served in the 346th. Combining personal touches with detailed rosters, the Historical Notes provide a wealth of information for family descendants, genealogists, and historians. Alacrity Press is proud to honor the generation of the Great War by making The 346th Infantry Historical Notes available to our generation.
